INVESTIGATING LICENSE OFFICESUCCESS WAS TOO PRONOUNCEDDesmond's Men Assisting Commissioner Whyte.

SHARP DISCLOSURES EXPECTED

MR. WHYTE BELIEVES OFFICE
WAS LOOSELY CONDUCTED.Vehicle and Dog Licenses, It Is Said, Were Distributed as Political Favors, Without Pay to the City.Startling disclosures are expected from the license commissioner's office within the next few days, as the result of an investigation started by Commissioner Joseph P. Whyte.Mr. Whyte admitted Tuesday that an investigation of the matter, which Mr.
Whyte is investigating, is essential to the one relating to vehicle licenses, which is claimed, have either been issued with wholesale liberality to political favorites or have been delayed by having to be referred to the board.The evidence, which is being collected with Mr. Whyte's help, will be before the grand jury when it reconvenes, May 13.
Mr. Whyte said to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday."It is true that an investigation is in progress to discover the extent and nature of irregularities which are alleged to exist in the distribution of vehicle licenses, which is the matter of vehicle licenses, which concerns the city," said Mr. Whyte. "I have been issued in greater numbers than the city received, and whether they are forgeries or not I cannot say.""No one in the commissioner's office or the collector's office is implicated in this matter," said Mr. Whyte. "The book appeared shipshape when he turned them over to me.""Have you any idea of the extent to which the city is the loser by the alleged fraudulent practices?""No; but it is evidently a very large amount."Desmond's Men Are Investigating.Chief Desmond has installed several of his men to investigate irregularities in the license commissioner's office at Mr. Whyte's request.
The results of their efforts have not been disclosed, but they are said to fully justify the statement that very loose methods have prevailed in the office.Mr. Whyte, who is a business man, noticed that something was wrong almost as soon as he examined the records of the office.
What he has since learned by personal observation, he says, has tended to sustain his suspicions.Thomas C. Hennings, one of the Democratic managers during the recent city campaign, said Tuesday:"I am afraid we had frequent reports that the Republicans were distributing vehicle and dog licenses with a liberal hand to influence the election."Each of the precinct committeemen, we were told, was supplied from some source with these licenses, with which they were expected to bolster up the fortunes of the party, according to what they do to the city, good. Whether the city ever received any pay from these licenses is more than I can say.""One man, who was in the Twenty-second ward, where a precinct committeeman was alleged to have received 20 vehicle licenses, was given them out, as I remember, it was said, that the precinct committeeman turned them over to a friend, a man in North Broadway, here, for the purpose of distributing them."Other evidence that vehicle licenses have been made a huge political "graft" in the past are not lacking. It is said, while Mr.
Whyte is investigating, that these licenses have been used in the same manner.A certain politician, who supposed the man to be a regular, stated on the day following the election, that he had been given 30 vehicle licenses to place, and that he had "placed" most of them where they would do the most good.Licensers Offered for Sale by Outiders.A member of one of the largest department stores in the city stated Tuesday that the license commissioners had been approached twice within the past week by parties who represented to him that they could secure vehicle licenses for one-half the regular cost.The superintendent himself verified this, and said that he had been assured by the man who wanted to sell him two-horse licenses for $100, that he could get two-horse licenses for $1 instead of $2, that they were "all right." The man who tried to make the sale was said to be informed that he was not employed by the city.Comptroller James Y. Player said he understands an investigation was being made in the license office, but he had not heard what the results were.The Senate "Lexow" committee devoted considerable attention to irregularities in the license commissioner's office two years ago.Commissioner Whyte says the present investigation will not result in a finding just how far the charges are sustained, and who, if any, are the guilty parties.

WEDDING WAITED 41 YEARS

Miss Disbrow Wore the to Wear in 1850.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., April 30.—Robert J. Moenir of Salina, Kan., aged 65, and Martha Ann Disbrow, aged 62, were married at the home of the bride near this city. The marriage took place just 41 years later than the date originally fixed for it.The trousseau of the bride-to-be was being prepared in 1850, when they quarreled because of Martha Ann's jealousy.After several futile efforts to effect a reconciliation, Moenir started for California. He did not proceed to the Golden State, but he

TESLA PLAYED BEFORE A CROWD

He Made Electricity Do Many Weird Things.

NEW INVENTIONS EXHIBITED

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS ENTERTAINED.

The Public Was Admitted and Was Much Mystified and Frightened at What Was Shown.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Fully four thousand visitors attended the Conversazione of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Both men and women crowded the halls of Havemeyer Hall and the Engineering building to see the 32 new inventions employing electricity which were being exhibited and operated there. Nicola Tesla was the man most sought after. He was scheduled to perform experiments with his electric oscillator and show the aspects of electric wave vibration. The exhibition was to begin at 9 o'clock, but was postponed until 10:30 and the crowds made every approach to the large chemical lecture room impassable.

Thomas A. Edison, President Seth Low of the university and Baron von Holleben, the German ambassador to Washington, occupied front seats. Tesla's entrance was greeted with tremendous applause and cheering by the Columbia students. Tesla spoke a few words only, saying he was there to amuse, not to instruct. He explained that he had made his electric oscillator to produce wave vibrations which were to be discharged in various parts of the room. One thousand volts were employed and the women in the audience began to feel uncomfortable when the demonstration started. The first row of seats and moved his apparatus nearer the center of the hall. Beautiful leaping sparks were seen to slip from the negative current poles and the brilliancy of the electric light employed was made to decompose by Tesla rubbing his hand along an innocent looking article in a mysterious fashion.

Steel hoops and Geissler tubes were made fluctuate in a most weird effect, was produced by radiating colored lights by waving vacuum tubes charged with the electric current. These experiments were, however, owing to the basic preparation of the apparatus. The audience was left in the dark for minutes at a time, while the breakers in the circuit were being opened and closed. Different colored tubes were then used with platinum electrodes at each end, which were placed with care around his hand, producing circles of fire.

The later experiments partook of the nature of the results obtained by induction experiments. A coil of wire was wound on a huge wire coil, the current passing through the air as in wireless telegraphy. Tinfoil was heated from the center of the coil, but the foil failed to melt, so Tesla had to do.

When the coil was short-circuited the foil heated so quickly that the demonstration was stopped with smothered exclamations. By far the most spectacular performance was the last.

A huge flat coil, 10 feet high, was constructed in front of the room and the current turned on in full force. Sparks leaped six feet in all directions from the coil, and the audience was interested that the insulation began to burn. The audience felt uncomfortable and Tesla smothered the flames, remarking that "It's just nothing."

Dear Were Made

To Hear Distinctly.

In the engineering building R. M. Hutchins and his students experiments are promised to work wonders. They are known as the akouphone and akouallion, and an independent experimenter, J. W. H. Van Tassel of the New York Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, brought eight of the deafened boys in the institution for experiments. One boy was born deaf, dumb and blind. He was led to the apparatus and the ear pieces fixed over his head.

The operator spoke into the akouphone, which is described as a microtelephonic instrument, constructed to reproduce and largely intensify the sound to preserve their quality. The boy jumped when words were spoken showing the novelty of all sounds. When he was asked if he had been repeated many times he made an effort to repeat the sound, with only partial success. The operator then spoke into the receiver and hand music was played. A faint smile appeared on the boy's face and he spelled out the word music with his fingers. The boy then began to sing, and at the same time with his hands and his face was soon wreathed with smiles. He rested when the cap was removed from his head.

Mr. Van Tassel said experiments with the akouphone on another inmate of the asylum had resulted in great success.

The students had learned a vocabulary of 12 words after five hours of instruction.

The list is: Bow, burn, boil, boil, Ben, brain, bright, bright, bright, bright, bright, brain, and paper.

The principles of the instruments were kept secret as yet, but it is said the akouallion, which is to receive sound emanating in the distance, has not been thoroughly perfected as yet. An immense crowd watched the demonstrations and the students were engaged in animated finger conversations when the electric current was shut off.

The enlargement is for the purpose of obtaining a greater contact surface of the transmitting system.

Mr. Palmer explained the indentations were made in the photograph on the foil outlining the principal features of expression.

The foil is full over a recording instrument with two impressions after the manner of new photographic prints.

"RAGTIME" FOR PERSIA'S SHAH

American Minister Is to Send Him a Supply.

PROSPECTIVE DELIGHT

WAS A CONSTANT PATRON OF OPERA IN PARIS.

Fully Equipped Graphophone has Been Sent to Him with Plenty of "Coon" Song Rolls.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—If there is not revolution in Persia in a short time it will not be the fault of American composers of "coo" songs. Ragtime music is to be sprung for the first time on the unsuspecting shah and all his court. Unless he uses the most strenuous efforts it will not stop there. When the first copies of the syncopated melodies once get into the walls and the feet of the Shah's suite, they will gradually percolate from the royal palaces out through the gardens and grounds and so to the subjects. As is well known, ragtime is a music of the people, it is simple, nothing will stop its ravages, and it often leaves traces of its visit in its trail. Therefore there are lived days ahead for the days of the graphophone.

It is not a minstrel company which is going to do the trick. No ragtime player is so ignorant as to suppose that it is safe to click that eccentric monarch with "Coon, coon," or any other of the very latest ragtime songs. It will be done by a graphophone, and if trouble results the Shah can get back at his American minister if Washington has started things. It is a good example of the power of classical music. He would rather listen to Italian opera than not, and in his last term of European Minister he was a patron of classical opera. While he was willing to spend money to gratify his taste, he did not want to maintain a first-class orchestra in his court merely to play music for him, and therefore he decided to purchase a graphophone which would grind out his favorite air whenever he pleased. The Shah's graphophone did not carry with it a pay roll as long as the royal arm.

Realizing that the best graphophones are made in this country and wanting to get the best machine that ever was built, the Shah gave his minister at Washington carte blanche to buy the best up-to-date machine in this country. The result was a graphophone which is the largest and most costly ever manufactured. It cost $1500. It has 150 records which accompany it cost $150 more. The machine is known technically as a multiplex gramophone and is as black and as wide as a piano. The mahogany case is of course artistically carved and decorated and the machine is furnished with three horns, one of which is twice as large as the others. It is twice as large as those used on the ordinary instruments. The volume of sound is equal to that of a church organ when the organ is at its loudest.

Realizing that this would not have been so bad had it not suddenly occurred to the Shah's minister that he was not the only one that his ruler had never heard any ragtime music. It may have been suggested by the graphophone player, while the minister was picking out airies from "Mignon" that possibly the Shah would leap with joy if he could get a little bunch of syncopated music to play on his graphophone. Gounod and Weber and those old fellows wrote. The minister, who is a fond on ragtime, was tickled with the idea, and accordingly got a lot of records of "Mignon" and "coo" songs with wax surfaces. He is not going to warn the Shah that some of the music is not in keeping with the care. The ragtime selections are mixed with the classical pieces, without any hint of their dangerous properties, and that is where the trouble will begin. Just now, the Shah is leaning back reveling in a bit of "Provocative" the slave who is operating the graphophone. He is not going to be the first one of the syncopated records and push the buttons, and the next instant the Shah will be startled with the rattle of maddening music. "You Told Me Never, Never Work No More" or reciting the dangers of "Ooo Goo Eyes." After that it will be all of war and peace and Mignon. The Shah is made of human clay, and there is a well-grounded suspicion that he is. Berlitz will have a hard time in rear of the orchestra, while Ben Harney is to Pandemic and the rest of them will crowd up in front and receive the hours.

If this should not be so bad, but when the news spreads through the city that the Shah is enamored of a new kind of music, it will be like a bomb at the Persian theater at the World's Fair. There will be a rush of the royal subjects to get in line, and the syncopation of Persia will be complete.

PRINCESS IN MOTHER HUBBARD

Daughter of the Sovereign of Tahiti Resented Recognition at San Francisco.

PRINCESS POMARI.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The Princess Pomari of Tahiti was gowned in a regal "mother Hubbard" of stuff as dark as a moonless night, and she was very angry, very angry indeed that her identity had been discovered. She blamed it all on the purists of the Australia, on which good ship she had come to San Francisco. The former United States consul to Tahiti arrived in San Francisco on Thursday.

The Princess and Mr. and Mrs. Atwater are quartered in the boarding house kept by Mrs. Paul at 49 Ellis street. While perhaps not palatial in the fullest sense of the word, it is a comfortable abode.

As exclusive as royalty could desire, interview with King Edward VII will be given to the Princess, who may come to one with the Princess Pomari in street. For here is one born to the who shrinks from publicity of any kind, failing to realize that the public eye is as keen as the fire that flashes in the eyes of the presser, that what she says to the public eye is as keen as the fire that flashes in the eyes of the presser, that what she says to the public eye is as keen as the fire that flashes in the eyes of the presser, that what she says to the public eye is as keen as the fire that flashes in the eyes of the presser.

She is a princess, and her highness is as exclusive as royalty could desire.

FIRST LAKE STEAMSHIP SAILING FROM PORT OF CHICAGO TO CROSS THE ATLANTIC

THE STEAMSHIP NORTHWESTERN.

CHICAGO, April 27.—The initial trip of the Northwestern, the first boat of any size to leave Chicago for a trip across the ocean, is being watched with great interest by citizens of the West and upper Mississippi valley, who believe that Chicago is destined to be the port of entry for the Atlantic.

Comparatively few boats have ever sailed from the lakes to the ocean. The Northwestern will be the first, it is said, that is capable of bearing a paying cargo.

The ship is to sail from the Chicago harbor from their northern homes.

A few coast vessels slip away from their Atlantic ports to end their days in the lakes, while occasionally some company starts a vessel eastward to open connections with South American ports.

Passenger boats for the coast trade, however, are so scarce that these seldom return.

It is expected that the Northwestern, in a degree, will be foreseen by the results attending the transoceanic trips of the vessels belonging to the Northwestern Steamship Co.

Faith is absolute in Chicago's ability to make the venture a success, and the success of the new venture is declared to depend largely on the reception of the vessel across the water. Return cargoes as large and remunerative as those which are required make the company's experiment a safe one.

To Capt. Atkinson of the Northwestern will belong the distinction of having taken the first heavy cargo from Chicago through the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence and across the Atlantic to Liverpool. However, two sea captains now live in Chicago who have sailed from the lakes to the ocean.

Capt. John Prindiville, master of the first vessel ever built in Chicago, which was built in the brilliant Minnesota, started from an eastern lake port on Oct. 15, 1856. The vessel could be fitted for winter and sea.

The ship went no further than Montreal.

In 1856 Capt. B. H. Higgle, on the Northwestern, made a successful trip to the Manitoons. He passed successfully through the canals and landed his cargo in St. Louis, Scotland. He returned to Chicago in 1857.

The Northwestern is fitted with triple expansion engines, and has a freight capacity of 2,200 tons.

The boat will be 22 days long, 42 feet in the hold, and will have a draft when loaded to the water line of 21 feet. Its estimated speed is 15 knots.

The Northwestern, the second boat belonging to the Northwestern Steamship Co., will be 2,200 tons, and is expected to follow 10 days behind the Northwestern in a trip across the Atlantic.

CRETARY OF STATE

Minnesota Has No Firmer Believer in Paine's Celery Compound.

Paine's celery compound has acquired a tremendous reputation for making people well by direct personal testimony from men and women who have used it. No testimonial has ever been published for this great remedy that could not be easily verified at first hand by anyone at all interested. Nothing has ever been claimed for Paine's celery compound that it has not accomplished in hundreds of cases.

For the guidance of thoughtful people who recognize the need of purifying the blood and regulating the nerves, the following letter to the proprietors of Paine's celery compound from Secretary of State Berg of Minneapolis will be of the utmost value in determining upon a trustworthy spring remedy:

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 4, 1901.

Dear Sirs:
One can show no greater faith than by taking a remedy for one's health. No better testimonial of excellence can be offered than the recommendation of that remedy to one's friends. I have taken Paine's celery compound myself, and as a result heartily commend it to others.

ALBERT BERG.

SITE BILL MAY PASS

COUNCIL BELIEVED TO FAVOR USE OF FOREST PARK.

ACTION EXPECTED TUESDAY

Arguments for and Against the Use of Forest Park as a World's Fair Site Presented to the Council.

A report on the World's Fair site bill is expected from the Council committee on legal affairs at Tuesday's meeting of the Council. The bill is expected to pass the Council.

Arguments for and against the bill were heard by the committee Monday afternoon. Norman J. Colman, Maj. Leo Rassieur and L. C. Irvine spoke in favor of the measure, presenting arguments for Forest Park as the site.

John F. McDermott, E. H. Bickley and W. A. Redemeyer spoke against the proposal to use Forest Park for the World's Fair purposes.

Maj. Rassieur and Mr. Irvine spoke of the proposition made in 1881 when this city was chosen to host the exposition for the Columbian World's Fair, offering the free use of any or all of the city parks in case the fair could not be located here. They argued that the city had been general toward a fair of its own than it had proposed to be toward the fair of 1881.

The members of the city council agreed in the proceedings against Charles Schweickhardt's liquor and refreshment privy in Forest Park was used by the Columbia World's Fair, offering the same right to grant the use of the parks for such enterprises. It was argued that 700 acres of park land were required, and that this space included all the ground which most visitors to the park would traverse.

A letter from the superintendent of Fair-

A RELIABLE PILE CURE.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the safest and surest Pile Cure on the market, because it contains no mineral poisons nor opium nor cocaine, but can be used with absolute safety and certainty of cure.

Many physicians are now using the Pyramid Pile Cure in place of surgical operations, being painless, convenient to use, and the patient can attend to his daily occupations while the cure is being made, as it is used at night and no additional treatment is necessary.

Dr. Wharton says the Pyramid Pile Cure will prove a blessing to mankind, when it is remembered that more and more a surgical operation was considered the only cure with all its danger to life, intense pain and an expense of from ten to one hundred dollars, to say nothing of the return of the trouble. The Cure is used by druggists mount Park in Philadelphia, was read stating that the park had been improved since the holding of the Centennial Exposition of 1876.

Mr. Colman urged a liberal attitude toward the park, as the part of the city government, and opposed any policy which, as he believed, would limit the management of the park by the northern part of the city in selecting a site.

Mr. McDermott, opposing the bill, spoke at length of the expense of Chicago, and said that the fact that the management of the Columbian Fair had to give the trustees of Jackson Park the salvage of the fair buildings for $100,000.

He attacked the city's legal right to grant the use of its parks for any purpose.

A MURDERER AT 70 YEARS OF AGE

Dr. J. L. Gartrell's Guilt Confessed by His Son.

BRAINED VICTIM WITH AN AX

EXPLANATION OF THE MURDER OF D. B. DONEGAN.

The Latter Was Traveling With Team Through Missouri and Killed by the Gartrells for $800 in His Possession and His Horses and Wagon.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 30.—Dr. J. L. Gartrell, 70 years old, today confessed to Chief of Police Hayes that he killed D. B. Donegan a Colorado miner, whose body was found in Missouri creek between Amherst and Mo., yesterday. The confession was in writing.

W. P. Gartrell, the doctor's son, confessed to his knowledge of the crime and to having helped dispose of the body. The men were arrested here last night after Dr. Gartrell had demanded the proceeds from a sale of Donegan's team and wagon, which had been sold by a local dealer.

When arrested both men stoutly denied complicity in the murder. This morning the younger Gartrell gave way under pressure of the law and confessed that his father had killed Donegan at their camp near Nihart on March 19. Then, he said, he sold the team and wagon to a boy bound to Donegan's wagon and after driving a distance of 20 miles dump it into the creek.

He said, they negotiated the sale of the dead man's outfit to a Kansas City horse dealer and came here to collect.

Dr. Gartrell was shown his son's confession and soon broke down and wept. He admitted having murdered Donegan, though he was a good man, the Colorado man and brained him with an ax.

The other details as described by the son were other than given by his father.

Donegan left Victor, Col., for Kansas City on March 15 and was driving overland when he met the Gartrells. He carried $800 in his pockets, wrapped in oil cloth, was found in the bottom of Mulberry creek. A search of Donegan's body showed a bloody pillow and blanket and a pocketbook containing papers belonging to the miner.

Dr. Gartrell is a benevolent-looking old man, 6 feet 4 inches, a Confederate army Uncle G. Price, and up to within a short time ago has been an inmate of the Confederate Soldiers' Home at Higginson, Mo.

He practiced medicine for years, and lately made his home in Victoria, Tex. He is also said to have driven a team in Mo. at one time. W. P. Gartrell says he is 25 years of age, but looks considerably older.

From papers in the possession of the Gartrells it appears that they intended to buy a newspaper in Victoria, Tex.

It is said that a local attorney who tried to collect the money from the sale of the horses and wagon will be arrested as an accomplice.

LAST YEAR'S ST. LOUIS DERBY WINNER

Sam Phillips, owned by John F. Schorr, winner of the St. Louis Derby of 1900, and entered at the Fair Grounds Track in the Club Members' and Independence Handicap.

SPRING RACE MEETING TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

AT FAIR GROUNDS TRACK

The annual spring race meeting of the Fair Association will be opened at the Fair Grounds Wednesday afternoon. A six-race card will be run, but the Inaugural, therefore a feature of the opening day, will not be run until the date originally set, May 11.

The following card also is arranged: 1. Balance, a stakes race entered in the Debuteante, Junior Championship and New Century stakes, and Lemuel, owned by the Fair Association, and Dixon, entered in the 2-year-old stakes and who has already defeated Balance. All this season, Queen, Dixon and Queen, Burlington, and Queen, all three owned by the Fair Association, and Dixon, a stakes race, will be run.

The meeting was originally assigned to the Delman track, but the slow progress in the construction of that park rendered postponement of its opening date necessary. The first six races will be made at the opening Wednesday and no big events are scheduled for the day.

The meeting will be a $600 race, known as the "Opening Special," an event for a straight mile and one-sixteenth.

The postponement of the Inaugural delayed the opening of the meeting.

MISS CAHN IS SILENT

WILL NOT DISCUSS FEDERAL CHARGE AGAINST HER.

WILL BE ARRAIGNED MAY 1

West End Young Woman Charged With Violating Postal Laws Released Under a Bond of $2000.

Miss Birdie Cahn of 3919 West Pine boulevard will be arraigned Wednesday before United States Commissioner Gray on a charge of sending obscene letters through the mail, of which she was arrested Monday after a long investigation by Postoffice Inspector Dice.

After arrest she was released by Acting Commissioner Babbitt on a bond of $2000, to await the return of Commissioner Gray. Her bond was signed by Attorney Chester H. Krum.

She went immediately to her home, where she refused to say any but the shortest thing. She said, however, that she would not make a statement of her side of the case until she should be arraigned.

The letters sent, Miss Cahn is accused of writing, were received by Mrs. Wolf Cohn of 3639 Pine boulevard, a relative of Miss Cahn. Friendly relations between the families were evidenced at the time, it is said, between Daniel Cahn and Miss Lillian Dwyer, a daughter of Mrs. Cohn. The envelope containing the letters was broken. Shortly after the breaking of the engagement, Mrs. Cohn began to receive important letters from the same address, to the postal authorities and Inspector Dice began an investigation, with the result that Daniel Cahn was arrested. He is now in jail awaiting trial.

After Cahn's arrest the letters continued to arrive at Mrs. Cohn's house, and Inspector Dice was compelled to go to the home of the collector.

Last Saturday Inspector Held of Mr. Dice's staff watched the mailbox at Vandeventer and Franklin and when he found the letter, Inspector removed the mail from the box at 9:45 o'clock a.m. He says Miss Cahn visited the box soon after the mail was dropped into the box and that he did not see any other person place anything in the box until the next collection, which was at 10:30 a.m. On Saturday morning the collector found but two pieces of mail in the box. One was a postal card and the other a letter. The letter was addressed to Dan Cahn at Marshall, Mo., and Miss Cahn admitted that she wrote it. But she denied that she had mailed the letter.

The last letter received by Mrs. Cohn was written on blue paper and was mailed shortly after the first.

When Inspector Reid reported his observations to Inspector Dice the latter sent for Miss Cahn to his office and she denied emphatically that she had written the letter, but she was immediately arrested.

Inspector Dice says Miss Cahn has been assisting him in his efforts to locate the writer of the obscene notes. She has visited his office recently, he says, with the result that she, too, will receive an improvement in her letters. She often told him that letters to a friend from her were unsealed and showed inscriptions scrawled above her own writing.

CITY NEWS.

Crawford's claim, and we think justly, their store to be the recognized "American Representative of dignified, progressive, high-toned, honorable, just and economical retail merchandising"!!!

St. Louis is soon to have the prettiest and most up-to-date grocery store in the country, and for same the credit is due that enterprising firm, the Luytjes Bros' Grocery Co. They will, in a short time, move into their new store at Sixth and Franklin avenue. Many new departments will be added, and not least among them is a first-class soda water service. Due notice of the opening of the new store will be given, but in the meantime they are offering goods at specially low prices at the old stand.

CLOSING CONCERT TUESDAY.

W. M. C. A. Orchestra and Glee Club Program Announced.

At the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Grand and Franklin avenues, Tuesday evening the closing concert of the season will be given by the Y. M. C. A. Orchestra and Glee Club. The association originated with James J. Ryan, bartenter; Hubert Bausachs, violinist; Henry Breyman, cellist; Misses Maybelle and Pearl Heyman, pianists, and Master Frank Delvo, boy soprano.

The Glee Club will sing the "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust" and the orchestra will render an attractive array of operatic numbers. The musical director will be Prof. Paul Mori.

THE TREATY DEFEATED.

VINITA, L. T., April 30.—Vinita and vicinity gave a majority of 306 against the treaty passed by Congress at the last session. The treaty failed in the territory by about 100 to 100.

At Chester, the Fairland, Wooton, Adair and other places gave substantial majorities in favor of the treaty.

At Flint the majority of 25 against the treaty is reported.

The defeat of the treaty means the enforcement of the Curtis law. It is probable that much litigation will follow.

HOLD ON TO THE ISLANDS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—President McKinley's speech at Roanoke, Va., may be regarded as announcing definitely his colonial policy. He said:

"We are not only expanding our markets, but we are expanding our territory. The policy of the United States will be to hold all that it honorably gets. We refused to divide our original possessions, and we will be the last to desert our new possessions."

SAN FRANCISCO'S WELCOME.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—San Francisco, now fully prepared to welcome the President, President McKinley, when the train bearing the chief executive of the nation, and his party, arrives in the city Tuesday, May 1, will find the streets and principal buildings elaborately decorated and the people eager to greet their distinguished guest. The city will be met by Mayor Phelan and the citizens' reception committee and escorted by regiments from the Cavalry and the principal street to a point on Van Ness avenue, where the parade will be reviewed and dismissed. There will be a public reception at the Ferry building at the foot of Market street, which will be illuminated with electric lights. On Wednesday, President McKinley will address the students of the University of California at Berkeley, at 10:30 a.m. in the Auditorium, and will have an open air reception on the Oakland High School grounds.

On Thursday the presidential party will be entertained at the home of Mrs. George F. Ladd, 1225 Market street, and will attend a reception by the school children of Marin County. In the afternoon the President will be welcomed at the Palace Hotel by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution. A reception to the diplomatic corps will be given during the afternoon at the Hopkins' Institute of Art. In the evening the Ohio Society will banquet the President.

The school children of San Francisco will be reviewed by the President on Friday morning. The reception will be given at the Knights' Temple, and in the evening a camp fire in honor of the President by McKinley Post, G. A. R. On Saturday the President will be entertained at the Palace Hotel by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution. A reception to the diplomatic corps will be given during the afternoon at the Hopkins' Institute of Art. In the evening the Ohio Society will banquet the President.
